

Honeymoons in Style

by
Jill and Carlo Nash

Honeymoons in Style is the latest offering from the stable that brought us Global Adventures in Style. This beautiful hybrid travel guide/coffee-table book once again encompasses Luxury Backpackers ethos of the contrasting themes of luxury and backpacking. Featuring over 200 pages of the some of the worlds' finest honeymoon destinations from 8 different locations around the world, including France, Italy, Morocco, Indonesia, Japan, Australia, South Pacific and Brazil.

Honeymoons in Style, is a guidebook ideally suited to independent travellers who have just got married, or about to get married and want a personalised honeymoon that breaks away from the more traditional, e.g 2 weeks in a resort. The focus is on spas, culture, the great outdoors, gastronomy; all the things you might expect on a honeymoon, while still enjoying the benefits of travelling to a unique destination and the freedom to explore like a backpacker.

Honeymoons are neatly divided into 6 different types, to suit all tastes including:

- Action Honeymoon
- Beach Honeymoon
- Gastronomic Honeymoon
- Spa Honeymoon
- City Honeymoon
- Cultural + Artistic Honeymoon

Honeymoons in Style is perfect for those planning a wedding/honeymoon, newly wed, or a gift for those recently married, who may want to spend anything from a weekend up to a year on their honeymoon. The book is themed around that 'trip of a lifetime' and can be used as a useful reference point when planning honeymoon experiences/adventure, but can equally be stored on a bookcase or coffee table for use planning future holidays.

The book is available from all leading bookstores and websites and also as a downloadable electronic copy to laptop/PDA. It also features advice on Hen & Stag parties in the travel advice section.

Jill and Carlo Nash have personally overseen every detail of the book's design and production, resulting in one of the most creative books for any couple planning their honeymoon. Commenting on the book they say: "We recently got married ourselves and as the build up to the wedding was extremely hectic and exhausting, we were really looking forward to relaxing and spending time together on our honeymoon. While researching for our ideal honeymoon, which included Brazil and Australia, we found the options for newlyweds pretty limiting, the usual couples resorts in predictable destinations like the Maldives.

We certainly couldn't find any independently written guidebooks exploring more adventurous options in unusual places. So after experiencing our own honeymoon, we decided to write this book. We wanted to offer impartial travel advice to any newlyweds wanting to travel independently, encompassing a mixture of both romantic moments with themed adventures from gastronomy to hiking. After all for many couples this is the trip of a lifetime, so careful planning is a must and we feel this book provides all the assistance they may need."

Honeymoons in Style also features:

- Map of the country pointing to key regions featured
- Fast facts, getting there and exploring around, best time of year to visit, Must know before you go, Highlights.
- 3 sub-section honeymoon adventures: i.e. Beach Honeymoon, Action Honeymoon etc
- Within each sub-section experience, there will be regional information, 3 places to stay, 3 places to eat.
- Each sub-section will have a little 'help-tip' i.e. a personal message about something Jill and Carlo experienced
- Each country/section will also have one 'focus on...' e.g 'Rio... Focus on helicopter rides'
- Tips & Advice: Post-wedding/ Honeymoon Check list, How to plan the honeymoon, Style tips, Packing tips

Notes to Editors:

About the Authors:

- Dr. Jill Nash grew up in (arguably) the best place in Britain - The Lake District. Always one for fun and adventure she trained as an outdoor pursuits instructor before globe trotting all over the world on scuba-diving expeditions and studying in various parts of France. The sense of adventure has never left her and after a short stint as an academic, she packed her bags and wandered the world - this time with her new husband. The most incredible adventure? 'Definitely diving the Blue Hole in Belize and getting married in Italy of course!'
- Carlo Nash also a fellow Northerner (but with a family history in Italy - a much guarded family secret!) grew up in Bolton, Lancashire. His Northern accent and penchant for action thrills attracted his nomadic wife. Carlo is actually a professional premiership footballer, which allows him to travel the world during the 'off season', but unfortunately he cannot partake in all the dangerous activities - he persuades his wife to instead! He is the man behind the lens, painstakingly making sure every shot and every angle is perfect. A bit like his game really. Perfect travel companion - naturally - and best trip? Probably hiking on the Great Wall of China - 'it's certainly the best pre-season training imaginable'.
